DESCRIBE YOUR FRIEND.

And Then See How Well Your Picture Will Fit Scores of Others.

"He was a young man and fairly good looking; smooth face and without glasses; wore a dark suit, was about 5 feet in height and looked like a married man. Anybody would know him." Such was the description turned in by a young woman who slipped quietly into the city editor's office and wanted to advertise for Chalmers. It appeared that Chalmers had left home, and nobody knew why, and this young woman had faith that her recital of his personal traits would bring him back. It was a good example of the average person's power of description of a fellow being.

It is totally inadequate! Though man be fearfully and wonderfully made there seems to be an unaccountable inability in nine persons out of every ten to give a creditable word picture of any one whom they have seen. Because we understand the looks of a person when we meet them, it never occurs to the mind that other people do not grasp a thorough idea of his appearance with a few passing phrases of description.

Your friend comes in, and you expound to him that such and such a man has just called for him, but almost invariably your exposition is a jumbled lot of phrases which apply to the human race in general.

The other day when I rushed into my office room with a column story on the end of my tongue—or at the tip of my pen, to be more accurate—I was given this greeting:

"Hello! A man has just been in to see you."

"What did he look like?"

"Oh, he was a good looking fellow—not very tall, rather heavy, but not too much so."

"Was he old or young?"

"About 20 or 25, I should say."

"What color of hair?"

"I don't remember now. However, I don't think he had a mustache."

"How dressed?"

"Oh, just an ordinary business suit."

Have you ever heard such a description? If not, watch yourself next time you tell of some one's call. You will be surprised to find that your description would fit almost any member of the human race.

Why is it?

I don't know. We read in books that it's because we don't cultivate the habit of intelligent observation.

There was once a boy who learned how to describe what he saw. Every morning he was sent by his father to walk rapidly by an elegantly arranged window, and then afterward to repeat to him all the things he saw at this one glance at the panorama and to describe them. At first the lad could remember but few things that his eye may have caught in the passing glance, but in time he could remember almost everything in a show window by merely seeing it once.—Boston Herald.

At the Manicure's.

The manicure with the golden hair was bending over the hand of a new customer.

"Do you want your hands bleached?" she asked.

"Yes."

She applied the bleach, using more than the ordinary quantity upon the thumb and forefinger of the right hand After working for about five minutes she stopped and said:

"It is always difficult to remove nicotine with the first application."

"Wh-a-a-t?" gasped the society girl, elevating her eyebrows. "Nicotine? What do you mean?"

"The cigarettes, you know," replied the manicure. "It's perfectly awful how they stain the fingers, ain't it?" And she smiled a smile that even the society girl couldn't resist. That made them friends, and they fell to discussing the different brands of cigarettes. And when the job was done the society girl whispered:

"What'll take the stain off?"

"Use lemon juice—I do—we all do."

"Thanks."—New York Herald.

About Opals.

The prejudice against opals appears to be disappearing. Anyhow they are popular. There are several varieties of opals and therefore several degrees of merit. The precious, or noble, or oriental opal is the supreme This has all the colors, and when these colors are broken into spangles it is then called the harlequin opal. Then comes the fire opal, or girasole, with hyacinth red and yellow reflection. The former comes from Hungary, the latter from Mexico. The common, or semiopals, are nonopalescent. The hydrophane, or oculus mundi, is nontransparent, but becomes so by immersion in water or any transparent fluid. The cachalong is nearly opaque and of a bluish white color. The hyalite is colorless, pellucid and white The opal jasper or wood opal is the petrifaction of wood, opalescent, but without the coloring which makes the "noble" gem so precious.—Chicago Tribune.

Working For a Holiday.

An Englishman stopping at one of the hotels was commenting upon the extreme restlessness and incessant go of Americans He said, "You Americans have such a beastly idea of the compensation of work."

"What do you mean?" questioned a Pittsburger standing near by.

"Oh, you people work for money," was the explanation.

"I don't see anything beastly about that," was the retort. "May I ask for what you Englishmen work?"

"Why, we work for our holiday," was the reply.—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Vienna.

Vienna is of nearly circular form, being 12 miles in circumference. The old city, or city proper, is, however, scarcely three miles round. It was formerly inclosed by fortifications. Immediately outside of these was a wide esplanade called the Glacis, which has been elegantly built up and is called Ringstrasse, one of the most splendid streets in the world.—Brooklyn Eagle.

APING MONARCHICAL GOVERNMENTS.

The tenacity with which this great and glorious Republic clings to monarchical customs is somewhat surprising to those who hear the spread-eagle speeches of Fourth of July and campaign orators. We send ministers, or ambassadors as some of them are now styled, to every foreign court as kings did when there was no mail or telegraphic communication between foreign nations and messages had to be sent by couriers, and the instructions given those ministers by the Administration are kept a profound secret from the people, who are supposed to be the sovereigns. Minister Willis, recently dispatched as representative of this Government to the Hawaiian Islands, received instructions, the purport of which is not known outside of the Department of State. It was heralded throughout the land, by telegraph and mail, that the Minister was authorized to restore the Queen to power and use United States marines, if necessary, to enforce his orders. This would virtually be a declaration of war and a usurpation of authority which the Constitution confers on Congress alone, yet millions doubtless believed that it was exercised by Minister Willis.

As the President in his message left the country in doubt as to the instructions given the Minister a resolution was introduced in the Senate calling for the correspondence on the Hawaiian question. Hill of New York made a sensational speech in support of the resolution. He said there was no cause for secrecy and Congress and the people should have all the facts. Congress is the law-making body, while the President is only the executor of the laws, and not all three departments of the Government rolled into one. He thought Congress might find it advisable to send its own commission to Honolulu to ascertain the facts, and this commission should be composed of more than one emissary.

This only proves that the United States should quit aping despotic governments. The people have a right to know what their servants are doing and there was no reason for keeping secret the policy of the Government toward the Hawaiian Islands. A majority of the people of this country evidently do not want the United States to restore the Queen to power and, as the majority is supposed to rule, it would be an unwarranted act for the Administration to use the naval force of the country to do what the people did not want done.

THE STATE BANK TAX.

The Banking and Currency Committee of the House of Representatives gives express surprise at the absence of any reference to the repeal of the State bank tax in the President's message. It is inferred from this that the President is opposed to the repeal of the ten per cent. tax on State banks and Chairman Springer of the Committee says it is doubtful if a State bank law would be reported.

It was thought during the special session of Congress that an attempt would be made to divert the Southern and Western members of Congress from the silver question by repealing the State bank tax and permitting each State to regulate its own banking affairs without restriction by the Federal Government. This would enable the several States to increase the currency as much as they deemed advisable. While it would make money plentiful, there are serious objections to the scheme, as the paper money issued in one State would not be a legal tender in another. In the days when State banks issued notes the country was flooded with wild-cat bills, some of which were utterly worthless, and bills of solvent banks seldom passed at par outside the States where the banks were situated. Doubtless if the ten per cent. tax on State banks of issue was repealed a similar condition of affairs would again exist and the people would be the losers as they were before.

Why not, instead of flooding the country again with worthless bank bills, coin all the silver that may be sent to the mints and if Eastern people do not care to use silver dollars issue notes redeemable in such dollars to those who prefer paper to coin? A silver note to-day is as acceptable to the public as a greenback and it is always worth its face value in coin.

THE Silver State says Hon. William H. Claggett, formerly of Nevada, and by right entitled to the seat in the United States Senate now occupied by Dubois, has joined the Populists in Idaho. He has written a letter renouncing his allegiance to the Republican party, which he says, like the Democratic party, is incapable and unwilling to grapple the financial question and serve the interests of the people. When Nevada was admitted Claggett, who was then practicing law in Virginia City, lacked but a few votes of being the Republican nominee for Congressman in this State.

THE sensational reports of the discovery by the police of a large quantity of dynamite in the lodgings of a man named Snyder in London, and of a plot to blow up the city, have reacted on the officers. The dynamite consists of samples used by Snyder, who is managing director of the Dynamite Projectile Company.

Minister Thurston has left Washington for Honolulu.

CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

The Senate Adjourns Until Monday.

WASHINGTON, December 7.—In the Senate Morrill offered a resolution that all parts of the President's message relating to the tariff, internal revenue and income tax, together with that relating to those who, it says, after a hard struggle for tariff reform are solemnly pledged to it, be referred to the Committee on Finance. Morrill asked that it lie on the table, and gave notice that on Wednesday next he would address the Senate thereon.

Hill gave notice that on Monday he would move to take up the bill to amend the Federal Election laws.

On motion of Manderson the Senate bill to reimburse the State of Nebraska for expenses incurred in repelling threatened invasions and raids by the Sioux in 1890-91, was passed.

The bill granting a pension of $100 a month to Mrs. Frances Corse, widow of General John M. Corse, was passed.

The Senate then went into executive session, and at its close adjourned till Monday.

THE HOUSE CONSIDERING THE BANKRUPTCY BILL.

WASHINGTON, December 7.—In the House to-day Cannon of California presented for immediate consideration a resolution instructing the Secretary of War to report to the House the greatest depth of water obtainable in the harbor of San Pedro and the estimate of the cost. Under objection it was referred.

The pending question when the morning hour arrived was the joint resolution for the appointment of a joint committee to investigate the rank, pay and other questions relating to the personnel of the navy. When the morning hour expired yesterday the Committee of the Whole was divided on the passage of the resolution.

Doolittle of Washington introduced a bill to enlarge the powers and the duties of the Bureau of Labor and create an Executive Department to be known as the Department of Labor, with the same officers and salaries as other Departments.

At the expiration of the morning hour the House resolved itself into Committee of the Whole on the Bankruptcy bill. Bailey of Texas speaks in opposition.

AN ACTRESS SUED.

A Lawyer Claims Lotta Owes Him $1,400.

SAN FRANCISCO, December 7.—Charlotte Crabtree, better known to the theatrical world as "Lotta," has been sued in the Superior Court by John W. Turner of Plumas county.

The plaintiff in the case is a prominent attorney of Northern California, who claims that the actress owes him an attorney's fee of $695, together with the interest that has been accruing for the past sixteen years, and which now makes the claim $1,400.

For years Attorney Turner has been awaiting Lotta's return to the State, but until the present every effort to serve papers in the case has met with failure.

A long time ago Lotta made serious charges against Turner, alleging that he had swindled her out of money, and she had him arrested on a criminal charge.

That case was compromised, together with the settlement of several thousand dollars in notes given by the Plumas county lawyer to the actress.

Lotta owns valuable mining property in Plumas county and Turner thinks that if he secures a judgment he will have no trouble in obtaining satisfaction.

WILL FIGHT THE COMPANY.

The Fresno Landholders Will Appeal to Congress.

FRESNO, December 7.—Active efforts are being made by the Fresno county landholders whom the Southern Pacific Company are seeking to eject to persuade Congress to legislate them out of their troubles.

John Daw, who is prominently identified with the interests of the farmers, states that they will concentrate their efforts toward getting Congress to pass a bill authorizing the Attorney General to defend on behalf of the Government the suits in ejection which the railroad company has brought in the Federal Court at Los Angeles.

"Attorney Madden's statement, to the effect that the court has determined in favor of the ownership of the railroad, is a mistake. They were successful in the case against Wiggs and Newman, but the facts in that case were not the same as in ours. None of the present suits have been decided and we will urge the Government to defend the title which they sold to us. Then if the court decides that the railroad has owned the land all along we shall again look to the Government to pay the railroad the price it now asks of us. This is only equitable. Fully 3,000 individuals are concerned, and a great hardship will be wrought if the Government refuses to assist us."

NEVADA INDIANS.

A Group to be Exhibited at the Fair—They Arrived In San Francisco.

The Examiner says: Quilted and blanketed they come to town—The Indians of sunset city.

They were scheduled to arrive on Monday morning's emigrant train, but they overturned the caluculations of their manager by entering San Francisco on Sunday fifteen hours ahead of time.

When the Indians crossed the ferry they exhibited the cards with which they had been tagged for the trip, and all in one wagon they were conveyed to the given address. The consignee accompained them to a lodging place which had been retained for Monday. There some of the blankets were left and then the agent took his unexpected guests to dine at a Fifth-street resturant.

And how they ate! The Nevada concessionaires know that the Indians don't demand big salaries in the show business, and they know that Indians traveling rates are low in California. Perhaps they have also figured on the cost of catering to an Indian tribe in a strange land, but if they haven't it is time to take the red man's eating capacity into consideration.

Those Indians liked the soup that was was placed before them on Fifth street. They drank the soup and then they ate bread. There was fish enough for a few mouthfuls. Some roast beef disappeared in an instant, and when corned beef and cabbage was placed on the tables the big chief drank the vinegar. Pork and beans seemed to go but a little way toward filling a long-felt want, but the restaurant had nothing left except cold boiled potatoes, bread and butter and four kinds of machine-made pie. These articles formed the remainder of the meal, but even then the red men were sorry to leave so soon.

After a few days the painted band will make their camp within the fence of the Nevada concession, and then the supplies will be bought at wholesale and the cost will be lessened.

In addition to the relics of days gone by which have been secured by the forty-niner mining camp, an arrangement has been made with the famous "Man Friday," who trundled a wheelbarrow across the plains in 1850. This old-timer will make his own camp in the inclosure of the camp and will exhibit the original wheelbarrow of his pioneer journey.

Telegraphic Notes.

There is no change in the Lehigh strike.

The South Bend National Bank was robbed of $15,000.

The Prince of Wales was nominated Grand Master of the English Free Masons.

George Gould has had Mrs. Zilla Nicholas, who is suing him for $40,000, indicted for attempt at blackmail.

A very light attendance in the Senate and no business of importance was transacted. An adjournment was taken till Monday.

Senator Sherman has prepared a Republican Senate Steering Committee consisting of Allison, Aldridge, Cullum, Dolph, Manderson, Washburn, Gray and Dubois.

For Bronchitis

"I never realized the good of a medicine so much as I have in the last few months, during which time I have suffered intensely from pneumonia, followed by bronchitis. After trying various remedies without benefit, I began the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and the effect has been marvelous, a single dose relieving me of choking, and securing a good night's rest."—T. A. Higginbotham, Gen. Store, Long Mountain, Va.

La Grippe

"Last Spring I was taken down with la grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breath seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid."—W. H. Williams, Cook City, S. Dak.

Lung Trouble

"For more than twenty-five years, I was a sufferer from lung trouble, attended with coughing so severe at times as to cause hemorrhage, the paroxysms frequently lasting three or four hours. I was induced to try Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and after taking four bottles, was thoroughly cured. I can confidently recommend this medicine."—Franz Hofmann, Clay Centre, Kans.

Cold weather, with snow in many sections, is prevalent throughout the Eastern States. RENO PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

Report and Honor Rolls for the Month of November, 1893.

RENO, Nevada, November 7, 1893.

To the board of school trustees: Gentlemen:—I herewith respectfully submit my report of the public schools of Reno for the month ending November 24, 1893.

The enrollment is still increasing, there being 532 for November as against 524 for October.

The State Teachers' Institute held in the High School building during Thanksgiving week developed some interesting methods of work. It affords a means of testing our own work by comparison with others. In this connection I may add the test shows the Reno schools doing, in most directions, the good work that institutes are everywhere urging upon schools. I believe we have all derived fresh inspiration from it, and that we shall find many ways in which to improve some features of our work.

To the good people of Reno who so generously opened their homes and hearts to the visiting teachers, I would tender, in behalf of our teachers, most hearty thanks.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

RICHARD FOOTE.

A Fine Entertainment Promised for This Evening.

The Foote Dramatic Company will arrive from Carson to-day, and this evening will delight an audience at the Opera House with the rendition of that superb play, "Don Cæsar de Bazon." The company was welcomed with good houses at Virginia and Carson, and judging from the reports of the papers and of persons who witnessed the performances, Mr. Foote has lost none of his marvelous powers at delighting his audiences.

Many of our people remember Mr. Foote and his company, which performed here for one week last year, and at that time nothing but words of praise could be heard of the company. The JOURNAL reiterates what it said of the company then, and republishes one of its numerous criticisms:

"Bordering on the wonderful was the acting of Richard Foote and Miss Annie Plunkett last evening in the play of "Hugo, the Hunchback," and it is doubtful if Reno has ever been visited by the superior or even the equal of these two actors.

"Mr. Foote's acting last night was excellent, and to say that he had his audience under his powerful influence would be but speaking lightly. While his performances heretofore have been more than acceptable, that of last evening was near perfection, which is probably accountable in the superior acting of himself and Miss Plunkett as well as the support. To go through the play and give even the slightest discription of its merits would require more space than we can afford to give, however much the desire to do so. Suffice to say that there never was a better pleased audience at McKissick's Opera House than the one occupying seats last evening."

SUITS AGAINST THE RAILROAD.

Over $36,000 Damages Claimed.

Two suits have been brought against the Southern Pacific Company in the District Court here this week. One was brought by J. M. Zion for $5,239 50 damages alleged to have been sustained by him by being put off the train here last spring while on his way east. He had no ticket when the conductor called on him and he was ejected from the cars. A conductor on the Sacramento division took up the ticket, believing that it did not belong to Mr. Zion. Messrs. Clarke and Jones are attorneys for the plaintiff, and J. L. Wines for the defendant.

The second suit was brought by George Jamison for $31,200 damages alleged to have been sustained by him from the loss of a foot caused by being run over by an engine near Verdi about three years ago. The plaintiff was caught on a railroad bridge between the State Line Mills and Verdi by an engine and his left foot was crushed necessitating amputation. He charges negligence on the part of the engineer. Goodwin & Dodge are attorneys for plaintiff, and J. L. Wines for defendant.

The papers in both cases were served on Mr. Wines, who is agent for the railroad company in Nevada.

Justices Court.

The case of the State vs. Robert Jones for misdemeanor in leaving open a gate on the ranch of Larry Derby was before the Justices Court yesterday morning, but on motion of the attorneys was continued till 10 o'clock to-day.

In the case of the State vs. Thomas Monihan, charged with assault and battery upon Spider Kelley, three venires of jurors were summoned before twelve men were secured to act. The Court adjourned at 4 o'clock until 6 with only ten jurors in the box. The remaining jurors were secured and the case was submitted to them shortly after ten o'clock. Up to a late hour last night a verdict had not been agreed upon.

LATER—Shortly after 11 o'clock the jury in the Monihan case was discharged, being unable to agree upon a verdict, nine voting for acquittal and three for conviction.

COMMENTS ON THE MESSAGE.

What Senators and Representatives Say of it.

Mr. Springer approved the reference to Hawaii as the only course consistent with international honor and comity.

Holman — An able, forcible document.

M'Creary—Able and appropriate.

Dolliver of Iowa—Wanting in definiteness and makes no pretense to the leadership of public opinion.

Wilson of West Virginia—The message is all right.

Tracy, of New York—I am heartily in accord with it.

Grearer of Iowa—The President gives away the Ways and Means Committee on the income taxes, will restore Liliuokalani and agrees with Hancock that the tariff is a local issue.

Bynum, of Indiana—A clear and concise statement.

Boutelle—The first executive document which charges the Unitee States Minister with malfeasance and treason.

Pine, of New York—A remarkably disappointing document.

Dingley, Maine— Voluminous and wearisome.

Dalzell, Pensylvania—That portion on tariff shows that facts weigh nothing with tariff reformers.

Hepburn, Iowa— The discussion of the Hawaiian policy is disappointing.

Voorhees, Indiana—In the main, a sound, strong, document.

McPerson—Excellent all the way through.

Murphy—Its a good message.

Palmer—The President's impressions are wide of the mark regarding fraudulent pensions.

Manderson, Nebraska — With a dogged obstinacy and mulish stubbornness that persists in wrongdoing when full enlightenments show a wiser course. The administration having hauled down the flag in Hawaii now propose to trample it in the dust. We are to trade the Goddess of Liberty for a harlot.

Cannon, Illinois— The message will not tend to restore confidence to the producing and commercial interts of the country.

Kyle—I am pleased with the income tax portion, but not about Hawaii and the issuance of bonds.

Morrill—The indorsement of the tariff bill not yet acted upon in committee is unexpected and remarkable.

Hoar—It treats of the important questions feebly and briefly. The reference to the tariff is a breach of privilege.

Mitchell—I am surprised to learn that the restoration of Queen Liliuokalani is really contemplated.

Hawley—Lacks vigor and is a disappointment.

Dubois—Lacking force, strength and Americanism.

Jones, Nevada —No hope for silver while the present administration is in power.

Platt—Scarcely deserves comment.

Shoup—I am disappointed at the absence of any recommendation of the recognition of silver.

Dixon—Wearisome without suggesions as to the immediate interests of the country.

Among the Senators who declined to express their views were: Sherman, Aldrich, Hill (N. Y.), Daniel, Mills, Cokrell, Smith, Harris and Walthall.

WHITE HORSE DISTRICT.

A Fine Prospect Developing in the Jim Blaine Mine.

W. H. A. Pike informed a JOURNAL representative that the Jim Blaine mine in White Horse district, near Wadsworth, is developing into a fine property. The shaft is now down about seventy feet and is all the way upon the ledge, which varies from two to twelve feet wide. Some of the ore has assayed as high as $2,000 per ton, while the average value of the ore extracted is estimated to be not far from $80 per ton. The mine is owned by a Sacramento company. They are taking out the ore and piling it up, as they have no way yet to ship it to the reduction works.

Adjoining the Jim Blaine mine is the claim of the Washoe Mining Company, of which Mr. Pike is President. This company believes that they have a continuation of the ledge tapped by the former company, and have a fine prospect.

The general formation of the White Horse lode is porphery, while the country rock is slate. The ore extracted is free gold, carrying but little silver.

We do not hesitate to guarantee them every time, and we stand ready to refund the purchase price if satisfactory results do not follow their use. These remedies have won their great popularity purely on their merits. S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

IT LOOKS LIKE A SCHEME.

The Midwinter Fair to Be Used to Circumvent the Chinese Exclusion Acts.

The Chinese village that is to be constructed and maintained at the Midwinter fair may prove of interest to visitors from abroad, but the Chinese who are back of the enterprise did not originate it for that purpose, but in order to get another opportunity to add several hundred coolies to the present population of this country.

The Chinese believe that the resolution passed by congress granting to the Midwinter fair the same privileges that had been granted to the Columbian exposition—namely, the entry of foreign goods free and permitting to enter the country the laborers, artists and others of foreign nations connected with the exhibits of those nations—will offer them an opportunity to land some more of their countrymen.

They have placed the matter in the hands of their attorneys, and from the expressions of certain prominent Chinese it appears that they have received advice that coincides with their wishes in the matter.

Like all the schemes that the Six Companies go into, it will be for making money, and the plan they will pursue in this instance became public at the custom house yesterday.

Already the scheme has been put in operation, and negotiations have been opened with coolies in China who desire to become residents of the United States.

Little Pete, on behalf of the Six Companies and other Chinese interested, is in charge of the affair and will see that it is made a financial success.

Little Pete is the go between in all cases where money is used for the illegal landing of Chinese, and he is considered one of the shrewdest "fixers" doing business at the custom house. He has been given instructions to arrange for the importation of another gang of supposed actors, and for several weeks he has been in correspondence with those who are to assist him in China.

Letters have been forwarded to China announcing that all who desire to come to the United States and avoid the trouble that the exclusion acts present can do so by becoming members of the Chinese village that is to be imported for the Midwinter fair.

Under the resolution passed by congress, if it will apply in this case, the number that will be permitted to land in order to participate in the fair is not limited, and how many will be designated by Little Pete and his associates has not been made known. It is expected, however, that fully 300 will avail themselves of the excellent opportunity that will be presented, and for that privilege each one must pay $200.—San Francisco Examiner.

A VIVID DREAM.

A Passenger Kicked Out a Sleeper Window and Threw Himself to the Ground.

A young business man of Minneapolis bought a furnace and had it set up on Saturday. Yesterday he worked all day showing his wife how to run it so she would not burn the house down, and last evening took a sleeper for St. Louis. Near Fulton he had a vivid dream.

He thought his house was afire and his family was locked up inside. With yells of desperation which fairly froze the blood of the other passengers in the sleeper, he kicked in the door and found the floor burned away, his wife and everything in the house cremated, and he himself landed in the cellar with a heavy thud. The blow awoke him, and picking himself up he found himself by the side of the railroad track. Glancing about him, expecting to see the train a wreck and the other passengers killed, he saw in the starlight his train vanishing in the distance. He had actually kicked out the double window of his berth with his bare feet and thrown himself feet first through the window to the ground while the train was running 25 miles an hour, and was unhurt, save three cuts on his left leg, caused by the broken glass.

The passengers notified the conductor, and when the train was backed they found the man walking to meet it. He was clad only in his nightclothes. It was almost impossible to believe his story, but his condition, and the deserted berth containing his clothes, and the broken window confirmed it.—Moline (Ills.) Cor. St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

A Curious Will Contest.

A curious will contest, according to Paris papers, is about to be tried in the Seine courts. Five years ago a Russian princess died, leaving a large fortune. There was great surprise among her relatives when the testament was opened. By one of its clauses she left 5,000,000 francs to the person who would remain a year in the chapel to be erected above her grave in the Pere la Chaise. The body of the princess, according to the legendary report, lies in a crystal coffin in a wonderful state of preservation. No one of her relatives has been able to remain longer than two or three days in the chapel. What will become of the 5,000,000 francs is the question.

The Comet Has a Short Tail.

Professor Brooks of the Smith observatory has obtained his third observation of the new comet first discovered by him a short time ago. Its position at discovery was: Right ascension, 12 hours 21 minutes; declination north, 12 degrees 55 minutes. At the third observation its position was found to be: Right ascension, 12 hours 25 minutes; declination north, 14 degrees 52 minutes, which shows the rate and direction of motion since discovery. As seen through the telescope the comet appears quite bright and has a short tail. This is Professor Brooks' nineteenth comet discovery.—Geneva (N. Y.) Dispatch.

Arctic Iciness.

It is fearfully cold over the line of Alaska on the edge of the Rocky mountains. Last winter the thermometer was for a week at a time down to 60 degrees, and I have seen it go even considerably lower. At no time in the winter, nor during other winters that I have been there, was it higher than 40 degrees. This cold is excruciating. We lived in a solid log house, a good warm one, but many a time I have awakened in the night and found the blankets, which were kept up well under the nose, frozen into a cake of ice. Sometimes the intense cold makes the blankets for a long distance down.

Meats and everything froze, and you would throw them anywhere without thinking. The worst experience was trying to make bread. The yeast would freeze in spite of you, oftentimes even when the greatest care was exercised. If you stepped out, everything was so still and so intensely cold you could hear yourself breathe. It had a rustling sound.

I discovered a queer thing about the cold, and it was this: Below 40 degrees you didn't notice it any more than 40 degrees. It might go to 60 degrees, or even more, but it made so little difference that you didn't notice it. It was all practically the same to you.—San Francisco Examiner.

Sensitive Old Saybrook.

The town of old Saybrook will hold a meeting in a few days to rescind a vote recently passed appropriating money for the building of a lockup. Since the vote was passed the sentiment of the town has changed greatly, and now the majority of the people believe that the erection of a building for the retention of violators of the law would cast an odium on the ancient town. It is seldom that the need of such a building is felt in old Saybrook, and the people believe that a community as orderly and law abiding as theirs can get along without it.—Hartford Times.

Atomic Principles.

A side light is being thrown on the nature of the elements by the chemicophysical discussion between Armstrong and Hartly as to the connection existing in the constitution of certain organic compounds and the colors they exhibit. We may take it as an established fact that a relation exists. And if so, then why may not elements of distinct and characteristic color be considered as complexes analogous to definitely decomposable substances? The two elements, nickel and cobalt, of decided color in their salts and in their metallic plates, add strength to this idea in that they may be considered as exhibiting a sort of isomerism. Their atomic weights are the same within limits of experimental error, and by analogy with compounds identity of atomic weight implies dissimilarity in constitution and therefore definite structure.—Science.

The Ocean Telephone Possible.

Professor Silvanus P. Thompson is one of those who believe that ocean telephony is not only possible, but that the means of attaining it are within our grasp. Telephone cables for the deep sea will, however, require to be made on a different plan from the existing telegraph cables—that is to say, a single conductor of stranded copper insulated and surrounded by an iron sheathing that comes between the outgoing wire and the water which serves as the return part of the circuit. The going and return wires will have to lie side by side within the sheathing. Moreover, the whole circuit will probably have to be broken up into sections which are capable of acting upon each other by mutual induction.—London Globe.

She'll Know Him Again.

When the king of the Belgians stopped in tavern at Spike during a recent rainstorm he overheard the hostess remark: "I've seen the mug of this tall fellow before." Ere leaving the place the king presented the hostess with a bust of himself and later forwarded a large photograph, with his autograph.—Exchange.

The way she looks troubles the woman who is delicate, rundown, or overworked. She's hollow-cheeked dull-eyed, thin and pale and it worries her. Now the way to look well is to be well. And the way to be well, if you're any such moman is to faithfully use Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. That is the only medicine that's guaranteed to build up a woman's strength and cure a women's ailments. In every "female complaint," irregularity, or weakness, and in every exhausted condition of the female system. If it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.
